COLLEGE PARK — Loyola learned last night just why Maryland is the No. 1-ranked men's college soccer team in the nation.

Bolstered by a few days of rest after upending UCLA and going on to win their own tournament Sunday, the Terrapins played virtually the entire game in their offensive end of the field and routed the young Greyhounds, 4-0, before 1,397 fans at Ludwig Field.

Maryland (5-0) had its opponent on its heels the entire game, registered a 30-1 edge in shots and gave its goalkeeper, Noah Palmer, an easy night.

"That was about a complete a game as a Maryland team has played," said coach Sasho Cyvetkovski. "I think this is the start of something magical with this team."

Special to The Sun

COLLEGE PARK — For the first time in the program's history, the Maryland men's soccer team is ranked No. 1 in the NSCAA/adidas Coaches Poll.

The Terrapins beat then-No. 1 UCLA, 1-0, in front of a record crowd of 6,143 Friday night at Ludwig Field.

The Terrapins (4-0) were ranked No. 1 in other publications at various other times, including Soccer America last season and College Soccer News this season, but this is the first time Maryland has cracked the top spot in what is the most highly recognized soccer poll.

The Terps are the consensus No. 1 team in all four major polls: NSCAA, Soccer America, College Soccer News and Soccer Times.

Additionally, two Terps were honored yesterday for their play. Forward Abe Thompson, whose penalty kick beat UCLA, was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Week. Midfielder Scott Busse was named the national Player of the Week by College Soccer News for his role in the shutout.

The Terps Are Recognized Regionally and Nationally

- Twenty eight Terp players have earned NSCAA All-America honors, including Jason Garey and Abe Thompson in 2004
- Since 1995, six players have finished in the top 15 in voting for the MAC Hermann Trophy
- The Terps had five players honored by the ACC in 2004, including three first team All-ACC picks
- Maryland was ranked No. 1 for the second time in school history in the NSCAA poll in 2004

THE MARYLAND SOCCER EXPERIENCE

"I chose Maryland because I saw it as a program that was growing. Sasho, the players and everyone involved with the program had things going in the right direction and I felt I could help build on that during my career. The program has come a long way and put itself on the national scene and I believe it is on its way to a national championship. All-around it was a great choice for me and I'm a proud alum."

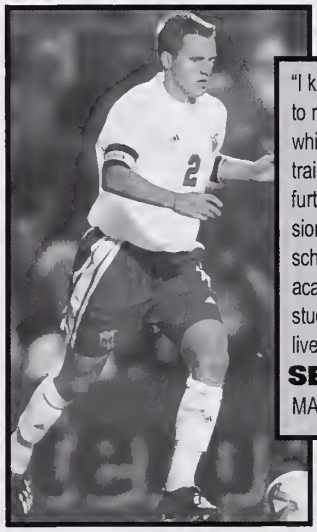
KEITH BEACH
MARYLAND (1995-1998)

"I feel I grew tremendously during my years here at Maryland, which I believe is the best program in the country."

DAN CALIFF
MARYLAND (1998-1999)

"My college experience was the exact step that I needed to take to get to the professional level. I owe a lot to Sasho, the program and the guys around me."

LEO CULLEN
MARYLAND (1995-1997)



"I knew Sash was fully committed to retaining a high level of success while providing the facilities and training environment necessary to further players' careers in the professional ranks. Also, Maryland as a school has become highly respected academically, which is important as student-athletes look to further their lives outside of soccer."

SETH STAMMLER

"The University of Maryland and Sasho Cirovski provided an excellent platform for me to raise my game and be a part of a first-class program, both athletically and academically."

TAYLOR TWELLMAN
MARYLAND (1998-99)

"The blend of academics and athletics at Maryland creates an environment conducive for developing as both a person and a player. Sasho and the other coaches helped prepare me not only for the professional ranks, but life in general. The commitment to excellence shines through with blinding radiance, and the program is not far from reaching the pinnacle of collegiate soccer."

LUDWIG FIELD
Home of the Terrapins

Since its opening in 1995, state-of-the-art Ludwig Field has been the home of the Terrapin men's and women's soccer teams as well as playing host to numerous other local soccer events throughout the past 10 years.

Due to the expanding horizon of Terrapin soccer and the growing interest in its achievement on the field, the University of Maryland embarked on a project that would bring the level of the facility on par with the excellence of the programs that played there.

The $2.5 million facility was dedicated on Sept. 16, 1995, and is surely a cornerstone of collegiate soccer throughout the nation.

The 4,000-seat facility is an integral part of the more than $40 million of new construction for Maryland athletics. The complex is fully lighted with an all-weather track and sodded Bermuda grass playing field. In 2004, a new state-of-the-art scoreboard with in-game statistics and lively graphics was installed.

The permanent lights allow for commonly scheduled night games. The lights also allow Maryland the ability to host NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference tournaments and nationally televised games. Since its opening, Ludwig Field has played host to 18 NCAA Tournament games, including eight Maryland wins in the tournament in the last three years. Those wins allowed the Terps to make three consecutive College Cup appearances.

Fans came out to watch Maryland in record numbers over the past few seasons. In 2004, the Terps had three crowds of over 3,200 in games against St. John's (one regular season, one postseason) and Duke and finished second in the country in total attendance. In 2003, nearly 30,000 people came to watch the Terps play, which also was the second-highest total in the nation. Highlighted in that year was Maryland's battle with UCLA, which was played in front of the seventh-largest crowd in NCAA history (6,143) to watch a regular season men's soccer game. The Terps defeated the Bruins, 1-0.

In addition to the collegiate games played at Ludwig Field, the complex has played host to numerous U.S. and professional soccer matches, as well. Among the teams who have used Ludwig Field as their home-away-from-home are the 2000 U.S. Women's National Team and the WUSA's own Washington Freedom.

In addition to the high-level of competition created by the excellent playing surface at Ludwig Field, the complex was also created with the local soccer fan very much in mind. The field is located directly adjacent to Parking Lot 1 and close to the University Boulevard entrance.

Numerous Terrapin All-Americans have called the field home, with Maryland fighting its way to an 89-28-5 record on its home field.

HEAD COACH SASHO CIROVSKI

13TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • 15TH SEASON OVERALL • WISCONSIN-MILWAUKEE, '85

Upon his arrival in College Park in 1993, Sasho Cirovski has transformed Maryland into a national soccer power, leading the Terps to College Cup appearances, ACC titles and producing top-level professional players. Entering his 13th season at Maryland, Cirovski has instilled his passion for excellence in a soccer program that expects to compete for the national title every season.

During his tenure with the Terps, Maryland has been to the NCAA Tournament 10 times, advancing to the Final Four in four of those years, including the three straight appearances from 2002-04. The Terps have also captured two ACC Tournament titles (1996 and 2002) and one ACC regular season title (2003) during his stay in College Park. His overall record, which includes two seasons at Hartford, stands at 194-96-18, and his record at Maryland is an impressive 168-84-12.

Last season the Terps continued to make their mark on the national scene, advancing to the College Cup for the third straight season and posting a 17-6-2 record. He helped mentor two Hermann Trophy semifinalists in forwards Abe Thompson and Jason Garey as Maryland set the school record for goals in a season with 62. Under Cirovski's guidance, the Terps have brought fans out to Ludwig Field in record numbers. For the second straight season, Maryland ranked No. 2 in the country in total attendance. Cirovski's efforts to build a winning team that plays an exciting brand of soccer are only matched by his efforts to build Ludwig Field into one of the top soccer venues in the country.

In addition to his leadership on the sidelines, Cirovski is also in his second season as a leader in college soccer as the chairman of the men's soccer NSCAA Division I committee. As chairman, Cirovski was the architect in creating the position of NSCAA Program Director, a major triumph for the sport. This position will be the singular voice of college soccer in dealing with NCAA legislative issues, overseeing College Cups and elevating the significance and status of the sport.

"Sasho has not only a vision and a passion to improve and promote college soccer but he has the knowledge and the dedication to pursue new ideas," North Carolina head coach Elmar Bolowich said. "His enthusiasm for our sport is infectious and it will unite the Division I college coaches to pursue our objectives and achieve them."

Cirovski has brought success to every program he has been a part of. After helping his alma mater, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in a decade as an assistant coach under Bob Gansler, he assumed the top spot at Hartford in 1991. In his two seasons with the Hawks, he took the team to back-to-back 13-6-3 records and consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances for the first time in school history. He then came to Maryland in 1993 to help resurrect a once-proud program that had been to only one NCAA Tournament in the last 1[illegible] years.

Cirovski has since built Maryland into one of the top programs in the nation and has given the Terps some of the finest seasons in school history. Here is a look at the year-by-year highlights of the Cirovski Era:

1994: In just his second season with the Terps, Maryland went to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, and finished with a 14-6-1 record. The 4-3 first-round NCAA win over Georgetown was the program's first since 1969, and marked the first time since 1986 that Maryland received an invitation to the Big Dance. The Terps' improvement from a 3-14-1 record during Cirovski's first year to a 14-6-1 record marked the greatest single season turnaround in the 44-year history of the ACC.

FEAR THE TURTLE
2005 MARYLAND MEN'S SOCCER

1995: Maryland again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Terrapins finished second in the ACC with a 4-1-1 mark, and ended the year ranked as high as No. 15 by Soccer America.

1996: Maryland made history when it won the 1996 ACC Championship, the first-ever tournament championship in the program's history. The Terps again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament before falling to William & Mary.

1997: After a fourth-place regular-season finish, the Terps again advanced to the ACC championship game before falling to Virginia. Maryland advanced to the NCAA second round for the fourth consecutive season, defeating Rutgers (1-0) in the first round before losing to American, 1-0. The Terps finished 1997 with a record of 16-6-1, a school record for wins in a season, and finished ranked No. 10 in the nation.

1998: Another milestone was reached on Jan. 31, 1998, when Leo Cullen was selected as the No. 1 draft pick by the Miami Fusion in the Major League Soccer collegiate draft. A Hermann and Missouri Athletic Club award finalist in 1996 and 1997, Cullen was also selected as the 1997 ACC Player of the Year, an NSCAA first-team All-American and Collegiate MVP by Soccer America.

1998: Cirovski attracted the nation's top recruiting class to College Park before the 1998 season, and led by National Freshman of the Year Taylor Twellman, and Maryland's all-time career assist leader, Keith Beach, the Terrapins finished the regular season 12-6. The Terps made their fifth straight NCAA tournament run, advancing all the way to their first national semifinal appearance since 1969.

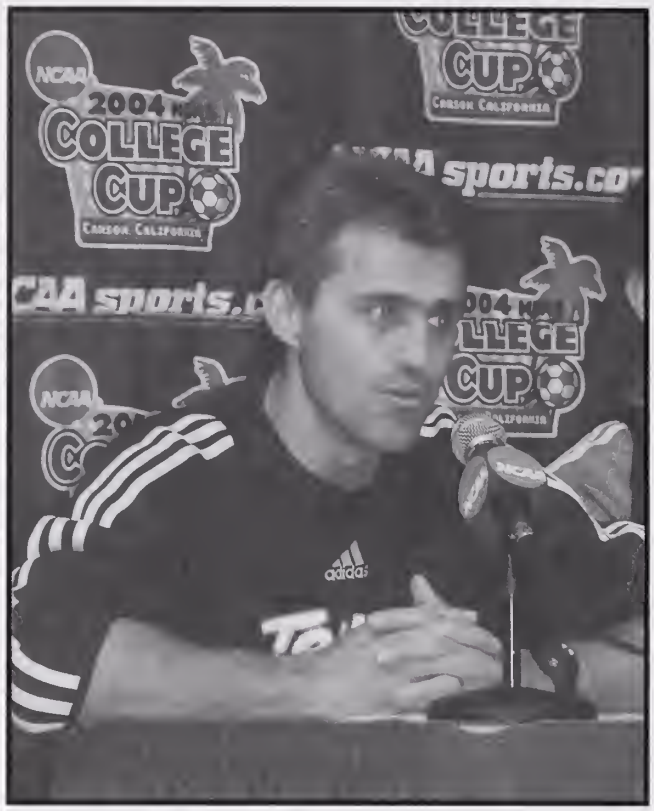
1999: The 1999 season saw Cirovski's team spend two weeks in the No. 1 slot in the Soccer America poll for the first time in school history. The Terps also ended the regular season with 14 wins, tying a program record for most wins in a regular season. Receiving its sixth straight NCAA bid, No. 6-seed Maryland was defeated by St. John's on its home field with a 1-0 loss in the 89th minute to bring its season to an end.

1999: Terrapin sophomores Dan Califf and Taylor Twellman both opted to explore their options in the professional ranks with Califf being selected in the first round by the Los Angeles Galaxy of MLS and Twellman signing with the 1860 Munich of the German Bundesliga, adding to Cirovski's list of former Terps currently enjoying successful professional careers. Twellman has since moved to MLS, earned a spot as an all-star starter in 2002, and led the league in points and goals per game in 2003.

2001: After a 10-9 record in 2000, the Terps returned to the NCAA Tournament again in 2001 for Cirovski's seventh NCAA appearance at Maryland. The Terrapins advanced to the second round after defeating Notre Dame before losing in overtime to Loyola 1-0 in the second round. The team was back in the Top 25 at the end of the year, finishing 25th in the NSCAA's final poll.

2002: Maryland fell just short of the NCAA title losing in the Final Four and finished third in the NSCAA/adidas final poll. The Terps had made their second College Cup appearance in four years and captured the school's second ACC Tournament title in addition to leading Terps to a program-best 20 wins.

2003: Cirovski was named the ACC Coach of the Year in helping guide Maryland to a 20-3-1 record, its first No. 1 ranking in the NSCAA poll, a second consecutive Final Four appearance and the ACC regular season crown. The 20 wins matched the school record set in 2002, and four Terp players were selected in the first two rounds of the MLS draft, more than any other team in the nation.



Achieving a level of excellence again at Maryland, Cirovski has added the respect of more people than ever for the Terrapins. He has combined an unparalleled ability to motivate and teach with exceptional mastery of technique to become one of the most talented and versatile soccer coaches in the nation. And whether it's on the field or in the classroom, Cirovski's student-athletes give it all they've got, and it shows.

In addition to the accomplishments of his 13-year coaching career with the Terps, Cirovski was also a standout student-athlete himself. He began his career at Wisconsin-Milwaukee where he was a four-year letterwinner. As a senior, he won the Herman Kluge Award for Male Athlete of the Year, and, in 1998, he was inducted into the UWM Athletic Hall of Fame. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1985 and his master's in 1989. He then spent parts of three seasons as a professional player and coach with the teams in the Canadian Soccer League, and the National Professional Soccer League. His first taste of coaching came in 1987 in the Canadian Soccer League.

Cirovski is entering his 15th year of coaching overall, and holds an "A" coaching license from the U.S. Soccer Federation, as well as an Advanced National Diploma from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. During the summer of 1997, he served as the assistant coach of the JVC U-17 World Youth Championship team, which played against Argentina, Uraguay, Egypt and two domestic camps. The team competed at the U-17 World Cup Championship in Egypt held in September of 1997. Cirovski also worked as an assistant coach for the U.S. U-20 National Team.

Cirovski's wife, the former Shannon Higgins, played collegiate soccer at North Carolina and entered the National Soccer Hall of Fame in the fall of 2002. The couple has three daughters, 11-year-old Hailey, Karli, who turned nine in August, and Ellie, who turned three on July 15.

RUSSELL PAYNE
ASSISTANT COACH
MARYLAND, '98
FIRST SEASON

Former Terrapin standout Russell Payne returns to College Park for his first season as an assistant coach. Payne, who was a four-year starter in goal for the Terrapins, returns to his alma mater after spending several seasons playing and coaching in Europe.

"Russell was one of the pillars in the building process of our program," head coach Sasho Cirovski said of Payne following his hiring. "He is an enthusiastic and charismatic person who possesses a great work ethic, and I am delighted to have him back at Maryland.

Payne, a C-license US Soccer Federation coach, comes to Maryland after playing professionally with the Shamrock Rovers (Ireland) and SV Elversberg Football Club (Germany). Prior to that, the Columbia, Md., native spent three seasons as the goalkeeper coach for the SV Elversberg U-16 team. From 2000-01, he played for Derry City (Northern Ireland) and also served as its U-18 goalkeeper coach.

Payne, who also spent time with Major League Soccer's Colorado Rapids and Metrostars, coached collegiately at George Washington in 1997-98 as the goalkeeper coach under Shannon Higgins-Cirovski and as a volunteer assistant with the Terp men in 1997.

A four-year starter for the Terps (1993-96), Payne was an All-ACC selection as a sophomore and led the Atlantic Coast Conference in goals-against average as a senior with a 0.88 mark. He recorded 22.5 shutouts during his four seasons and recorded 340 saves in his career in helping Maryland to three straight NCAA Tournament appearances. He also helped Maryland to its first-ever ACC Tournament championship in 1996.

ASSISTANT COACH
ST. BONAVENTURE, '00
THIRD SEASON

Bringing enthusiasm, loyalty and a tremendous appetite for the game to the Maryland sideline, Rob Vartughian begins his third season as an assistant coach. Vartughian works primarily with the goalkeepers, but is also heavily involved in all aspects of the program.

Last season, Vartughian helped Noah Palmer conclude one of the finest careers for a goalkeeper in Maryland history while helping the Terps to a third straight appearance in the College Cup. In his first season at Maryland, Palmer had one of the lowest goals-against average (0.56) in the nation and the best in school history.

Over the past two seasons the Terp keepers have combined for 24 shutouts, and Palmer has earned All-ACC honors in both seasons under Vartughian. A collegiate keeper for St. Bonaventure from 1996-99 and then for Wake Forest in 2000, Vartughian comes to College Park after spending two years as an assistant coach for Penn. While at Penn, he acted as both the men's and women's goalkeeping instructor, where his keepers earned All-American and Ivy League Player of the Year accolades, while both men's and women's teams went on to Ivy League titles in 2001 and 2002.

Vartughian was a Bonnie from 1996-99 and graduated in 2000 with a bachelor of science in accounting and finance before heading to Wake Forest to begin graduate work in education. During his time at St. Bonaventure, the New Jersey native played with the Premier Development League's New Jersey Riptide (1997-98) and New Brunswick Brigade (1999). Before playing for the Demon Deacons for his final college season, he trained with the NY/NJ Metrostars.

Vartughian's playing career extended past college taking him to the Philadelphia Kixx of the Major Indoor Soccer League and both the Hampton Roads Mariners and Charleston Battery of the A-League teams. He spent 2001 with the South Jersey Barons Division III United Soccer League team. His other coaching experience includes being the director of goalkeeper training at the Elite 300 Soccer Academy.

Vartughian is single and resides in Bowie, Md.

2005 SEASON OUTLOOK

The Maryland Terrapins have had unparalleled success over the past three seasons racking up 57 wins, three straight College Cup appearances and an ACC regular season and tournament title. With that success it might be easy to take the accomplishments for granted, but the Terps, led by a resolute and determined senior class, are continuing with the same blue collar work ethic to help lead them to their goal of a national championship.

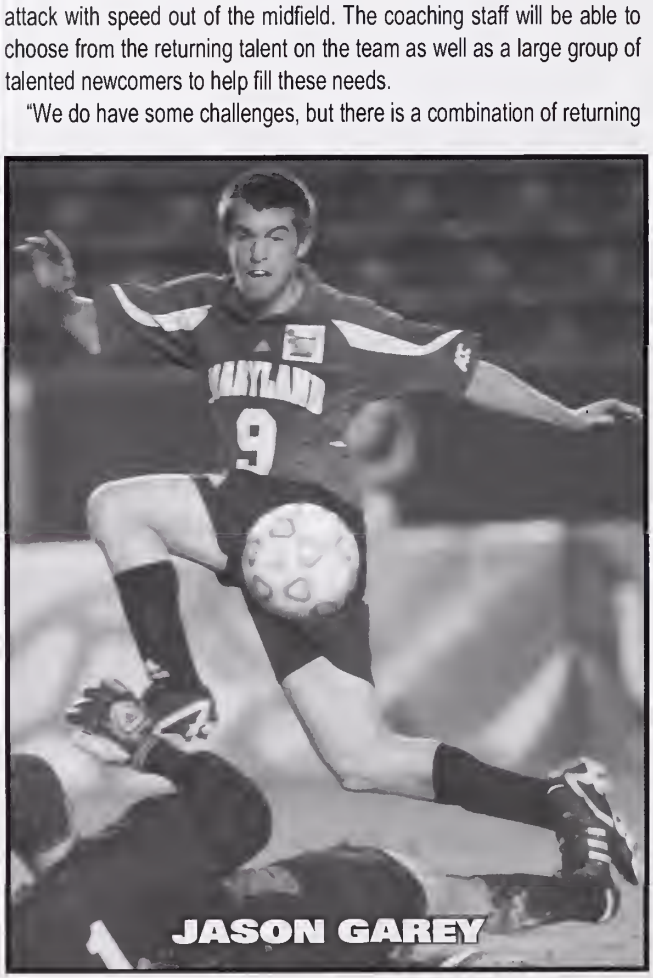
"It's easy to look at our success over the last three years and be content, but I don't think that's going to happen because of our senior class," head coach Sasho Cirovski says. "Although they understand that what they've done is very good, they are not satisfied one bit. When you get as far as we've gotten, the pain of losing in those national semifinals never goes away. There probably is not a group of seniors that deserves something to happen to them more than this one.

"If you look at the four seniors who have been on the field for us a lot in the last few years—Michael Dello Russo, Chris Lancos, Kenney Bertz and Jason Garey)--they might be our four hardest workers this summer. When you add to that mix a determined leader in Craig Salvati and you bring in Marc Burch and you have a six-member senior class that is highly determined and capable."

The Terps return seven starters from last year's team, including their entire back line and one of the nation's best forwards in Garey. The Terps will need to fill key holes in their lineup, though, as Maryland will need to break in a new goalkeeper, find a tough-nosed midfielder, come up with a running mate at striker to go with Garey and locate a player who can attack with speed out of the midfield. The coaching staff will be able to choose from the returning talent on the team as well as a large group of talented newcomers to help fill these needs.

"We do have some challenges, but there is a combination of returning players that have been moving toward their opportunities for playing tim as well new players that are coming in that I am extremely excited about Cirovski says. "The group of newcomers is made up of kids that wante to come to Maryland and help us win a national championship. This clas is winners and competitors.

"It's an exciting season, and our appetite for competition will be greate than ever."



JASON GAREY

FORWARD

Jason Garey put together one of the top offensive seasons in Marylan history in 2004 scoring 22 goals and nine assists for 53 points. Garey, Hermann Trophy semifinalist, emerged as a reliable, hard-working fo ward who proved to have a knack for finding scoring opportunities. Whil the Terps will count on Garey to get his goals, the key for Maryland w be to have other players step forward and make the offensive attack ba anced.

"It's not so much what we need from Jason, it's what we need from th other players," Cirovski says. "We are going to need one or two attackin players to step up and have a big year so that Jason is not the lone ma marked by opposing teams in the same way that Jason benefited fror having Abe Thompson and Domenic Mediate around last season."

Helping to ease the offensive burden is senior transfer Marc Burch who comes to College Park after three seasons at Evansville. Burch is tall target with skill and experience. Sophomore Aki Kadotani saw actio in nine games as a freshman and will again provide depth at forward.

In addition to these players, the midfield is littered with talented attack ing players who could impact the offense. Junior A.J. Godbolt, sopho mores Maurice Edu, Stephen King, Kevin Reiman and freshmen Robbi Rogers, Doug Rodkey and Graham Zusi are all talented offensive player out of the midfield are capable of finding the back of the net for Maryland Cirovski likes to rotate players up top, so he believes there should b plenty of opportunities for players to make an impact.

MIDFIELD

While the Terp midfield has plenty of offensive firepower, the players tha can provide exceptional two-way play that will take to the field the mos for Cirovski.

"I'm looking for consistency and two-way players," Cirovski says. "Play ers that are going to add value as much when you don't have the ball a when you do. We also need a few of the intangibles and bring complimen tary skills to the other players on the field."

Stephen King and A.J. Godbolt proved to be steady players in the mid field for the Terps in 2004 and will likely get the nod again this seasor King started every game last season scoring seven goals, including thre game-winners, and five assists. He also demonstrated steady, smart pla in the midfield. Godbolt, a starter in 17 games, provided Maryland wit one of the top goals of the year with his header against St. John's i the NCAA Quarterfinals. Maurice Edu was slowed by injuries throughou the season, but was a force whenever he got onto the field and had a outstanding spring season.

Robbie C'deBaca missed all of last season with a broken leg, but coul also be the consistent, ball-winning presence Cirovski is looking for. healthy Pat Wilson and Spencer Allen, who earned quality minutes as freshman, could also work their way into the lineup.

Robbie Rogers, who Cirovski believes was the top attacking player in the nation coming out of high school, gives the Terps a player in the mold of the graduated Domenic Mediate who can attack with speed out of the midfield. Kevin Reiman and Doug Rodkey also bring electricity and excitement to the field with their play out wide. Freshman Kwame Darko is another versatile wide midfielder who will compete for action.

A key spot for Maryland will be finding a replacement for Ian Rodway, Maryland's quiet but effective midfielder. Cirovski believes that freshmen Mike Marchiano and Kevin Tangney have the attitude and skill to be the Terps' holding midfielder.

DEFENSE

The Terp defense, highlighted by seniors Kenney Bertz, Chris Lancos and Michael Dello-Russo, is a dynamic group whose different individual strengths mesh to form one of the top units in the country. Bertz gives the Terps a strong and athletic presence and excels in the air at both ends of the field. Lancos, who thrived in his right back position a season ago, is a talented technical player and is one of the top attacking defenders in the country. Dello-Russo gives the Terps a bit of everything, with his defense, passing and leadership. Dello-Russo and Lancos each notched 10 assists out of the back for the Terps in 2004, and all three players have been consistent starters throughout their careers in College Park.

"These guys, as seniors, give us tremendous leadership and help set the tone for the entire team," Cirovski says. "They bring different talents to the table, but the same no-nonsense attitude that we need."

The fourth returning starter is junior David Glaudemans. The gritty left back secured a starting spot midway through the season and proved he was up to the task fitting well with the other three. Glaudemans will benefit from that experience and has continued to improve during his career.

Despite the experience and talent, several players will push for time to spell the defenders or to provide a different look. Freshmen Mike Marchiano and Kevin Tangney could drop back from the midfield, or classmates Matt Beckman, A.J. Delagarza and Michael Vallie could give the Terps depth.

GOALKEEPER

For the first time in three seasons, the Terrapins will be starting a goalkeeper with limited game experience. Senior Craig Salvati has waited patiently behind Noah Palmer for his opportunity, but talented newcomer Chris Seitz will be strong competition for the job as well.

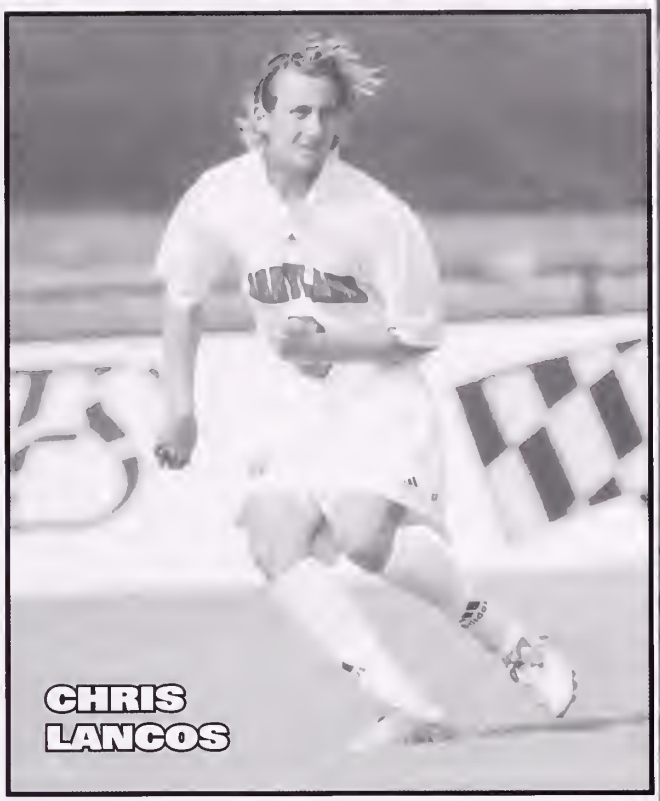
Salvati has earned the respect of his teammates and has become a team leader. He's seen action in 12 games, including three starts, and has two shutouts to his credit. This spring, Salvati improved in every game and began to gain the confidence necessary to be a starter.

Seitz, the California High School Gatorade Player of the Year, brings a big frame and athleticism between the pipes for the Terps. He has a strong presence on the field and has the talent to make the big saves.

"We need to find the player who is the most consistent and steady," Cirovski says of the competition for goalkeeper. "It isn't all about making the big save, although that is a part of it, but we need to have someone who gives us a good chance to win every time out."

SCHEDULE

Once again, the Terps have put together an extremely challenging and exciting schedule that come season's end will likely rank among the toughest in the nation. Maryland will go against 10 teams that competed in the 2004 NCAA Tournament, including national champion Indiana and semifinalist Duke.



CHRIS LANCOS

"We are excited about the challenge of taking on one of the most competitive schedules we've ever put together here," says Cirovski. "This schedule stays with our tradition of playing the best teams in college soccer.

"In particular, I believe our home schedule is as exciting as we've had, and I can't wait to see Ludwig Field bursting with energy and enthusiasm this fall."

After a preseason tournament in Akron, Ohio, the Terps open the season on the West Coast for a pair of games against Cal St. Fullerton and UCLA. Maryland will then return home for the sixth-annual Maryland/adidas Classic sponsored by Chesapeake Electric Systems the weekend of Sept. 9-11. The Terps will take on Santa Clara, who advanced to the College Cup in 2003, and Virginia Commonwealth, a 2004 NCAA quarterfinalist. Georgetown completes the tournament field.

Other home games include ACC contests against Clemson, Wake Forest, North Carolina, and Virginia and non-conference matchups against St. Bonaventure, William & Mary, NJIT and two-time defending national champion Indiana. The Hoosiers eliminated the Terps in a double-overtime thriller in last season's national semifinals and will visit College Park on Saturday, Oct. 29, at 8 p.m., in Maryland's regular season finale. The Terp seniors will be honored prior to kickoff.

In addition to the season-opening trip to California, the Terps will have ACC road games against NC State, Duke, Virginia Tech and conference newcomer Boston College. The non-conference road slate includes a trip to University Park to take on Penn State and the short drive to Washington, D.C., to face Georgetown.

The ACC Tournament will once again be held in Cary, N.C., the week of Nov. 8-13. The Terps have advanced to the finals each of the past three seasons, winning in 2002. The SAS Soccer Stadium in Cary will also be the site for this year's College Cup the weekend of Dec. 9-11.

GAME 1 ❖ SEPTEMBER 3

LONG ISLAND 0
#3 MARYLAND 5

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.— Five different Maryland Terrapins found the back of the net as the Terps won a 5-0 decision in the first game of the Virginia/Nike Classic Friday night at Klockner Stadium. Maurice Edu's first career goal for the Terrapins at 18:50 proved to be all Maryland would need as Noah Palmer and Craig Salvati combined for the shutout.

The Terps notched the early goal on a throw in by Kenney Bertz. Berttz's throw landed on the far side of the box and found Edu, who settled the ball and bounced the ball in off the crossbar for the score at 18:39.

The Terps carried the momentum into the second half as Jason Garey put up the third goal of the day for the Terps at 51:13.

Thompson was rewarded for his hard work in the 63rd minute after a cross by Garey was touched by Mediate from the left side of the box to Thompson in the middle for the finish. Just 30 seconds later, the Terps netted their fifth score after Mediate worked his way all the way to the goal line before crossing to Stephen King.

The defense for the Terps helped keep all of the action on the Maryland side of the field. The Terrapins allowed just three shots on goal (two saves for Palmer, one for Salvati), and just six total shots for the game.

MARSHALL 0

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.— The Maryland Terrapins got three goals in the first 15 minutes and cruised to a 6-0 victory over Marshall in the second game of the Virginia/Nike Classic. Maryland's 11 goals over the two days sets a Virginia/Nike Tournament record and is the most goals in consecutive games since 2001 when Maryland scored 13 against Manhattan and NC State.

Domenic Mediate was pulled down in the box near the touch line and a foul was called. Thompson buried the penalty kick into the left side of the net just two minutes into the game.

Just over a minute later, Thompson sent a high cross to the right side of the box. The ball landed five yards from the far post, and A.J. Godbolt was there to finish for the score on a tough angle.

The Terps kept the offense coming, this time with Jason Garey providing the goal in the 14th minute The forward combo of Thompson and Garey combined for the next goal as Garey countered a Marshall attack and sent a through ball for Thompson, leaving him one-on-one with the goalkeeper. Just under two minutes later, Garey headed a cross from Michael Dello-Russo into the net.

In the second half, Marshall (0-2) was able to possess the ball a little better, but the Thundering Herd settled for mostly long-range shots. The Terps lit up the scoreboard again on its first shot of the second half at 59:06 after Erwin Diaz sent a cross to the middle of the box where Jason Arnold headed the ball in for the score.

#2 ST. JOHN'S 2
#3 MARYLAND 5

COLLEGE PARK, Md — The Maryland Terrapins waited nine months to play St. John's after the Red Storm eliminated the Terps from the NCAA Tournament, but waited only 58 seconds into the match to tally the score as No. 3 Maryland rolled to an impressive 5-2 win over second-ranked St. John's Friday night at Ludwig Field. Jason Garey tallied the first hat trick of his career, Abe Thompson added a pair of goals and A.J. Godbolt had three assists to pace the Terp offense.

A crowd of 3,332, the fourth-largest crowd in Ludwig Field, watched as it took less than a minute for Thompson to send a quick touch to Garey and the junior striker buried the chance in the back of the net for a 1-0 Terrapin lead.

Maryland made it 2-0 after Chris Lancos sent over a cross that made its way to Thompson who drilled a rocket past St. Johns keeper Bill Gaudette to make it 2-0 in the 17th minute.

In the 22nd minute, Gaudette's attempted clearance from wide of the net was deflected, leaving to blast into the open net for a 3-0 Terp lead.

St. Johns showed signs of life, however, as Schmid flicked on a goal kick and Groenwald displayed tremendous skill to flick the ball past a Maryland defender and get to the ball to make it 3-1 at 25 minutes.

By the 51st minute it was more of the same for Maryland as Mediate put in a terrific bit of work on the left, beating two defenders before setting up Garey for his second goal of the night and a 4-1 lead.

With the score 4-2, Garey slammed the door shut on St. John's after work in the right before firing home on an assist from Godbolt.

GEORGETOWN 2
#3 MARYLAND 4

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The third-ranked Maryland Terrapins faced its first deficit of the season early against Georgetown, but stormed back to score the game's next three goals and went on to win a 4-2 decision over the Hoyas Sunday afternoon at the Maryland/adidas Classic.

Jason Garey scored a pair of goals and Chris Lancos scored a career-high four points on a goal and two assists to help pace the Terrapins. Abe Thompson scored the Terps' other goal and Kenny Bertz chipped in two assists.

For their efforts, Garey and Thompson were named co-MVPs of the tournament.

The Hoyas (2-3-0) started the game strong controlling possession and creating opportunities. Ricky Schramm headed in a cross from Trevor Goodrich at the 7:05 mark to give the Hoyas the early lead.

Maryland was able to get into its offensive rhythm midway through the first half. The Terps knotted the score at 1-1 when Thompson held off a defender and got the shot past goalie Andrew Keszler.

Just under 10 minutes later, it was Garey providing the punch for the Terps. Maryland (4-0) kept the pressure on in the second half, and got some breathing room on a score from Lancos.

Georgetown would rally back, though, as Trevor Goodrich's corner kick went to Schramm who settled the ball and fired from 18 yards into the top-right side of the net to cut the Terrapin lead to 3-2.

Garey put the game out of reach in the 68th minute when he kept pushing toward the end line looking as if he was going to cross it, then fired a shot at a tough angle past Keszler for the score.

The Terrapin defense held Georgetown to just six total shots, but four of those went on goal: two ended up as scores and Noah Palmer tallied saves on the other two. The Hoyas scored on their only shot in the second half.

Six different players netted goals for Maryland, including Abe Thompson who scored a hat trick and added an assist.

After another goal by King at 29:51, Thompson buried another goal just :54 later after his shot was re-directed by a Loyola defender and found the back of the net.

CARY, N.C. - Jason Garey scored the game-tying goal with just over 11 minutes left in regulation and No. 2 Maryland and NC State played even the rest of the way as the Terrapins and Wolfpack played to a 1-1 tie Sunday afternoon at SAS Stadium.

In the first 45 minutes, the Wolfpack midfield did a good job of maintaining possession but could not come up with a score.

In the second half, NC State took the opportunity to counter-attack as Federico Peria settled the ball near midfield before sending it ahead to Aaron King. King got inside the Maryland defender in a one-on-one situation and beat Noah Palmer.

The Terps switched to just three in the back and then began to get a few more opportunities. Maryland got the equalizer at 79:43 after NC State goalie Jorge Gonzalez came out to play a cross but Garey was able to get to it first as he finished from just six yards out.

#1 MARYLAND.....1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The Duke Blue Devils scored a pair of goals just seven minutes apart in the second half and held off a furious Maryland offensive rally for a 2-1 win Saturday night at Ludwig Field in front of 4,165 fans.

The Terps (5-2-1, 0-1-1 ACC) held a commanding 24-8 lead on shots, but were unable to convert several good scoring chances.

Maryland had several good scoring chances in the first half, but it was Duke (9-0-0, 2-0-0 ACC) who got on the scoreboard first just six minutes into the second half when Michael Videira sent a ball into the box without a Duke player making a run. However, the Terps failed to clear the ball and it rolled into the net for the score at 50:43.

The Blue Devils tacked on another goal seven minutes later on a cross sent by Spencer Wadsworth. The Terps were unable to time the ball correctly to head it away, and Duke's Danny Kramer blasted the shot into the net for the 2-0 lead.

Maryland continued to attack, pressuring Duke in the final third of the field. The pressure paid off when Abe Thompson drew and buried a penalty kick in the right-hand corner of the net to cut the Duke lead to 2-1 with just under 15 minutes remaining in the game, but Maryland could not get the equalizer

WAKE FOREST.....4

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - Wake Forest got second half goals from Scott Sealy and Justin Moose to lead the Demon Deacons to a 4-2 win over Maryland Saturday night at Spry Stadium.

The Terps got a pair of first half scores from Domenic Mediate, but Wake Forest used an impressive second half performance to get past the Terps. The Deacons out-shot Maryland 12-2 and forced Terrapin goalie Noah Palmer to make four saves in the final 45 minutes of action.

The Terps got on the board first after a Jason Garey shot was saved but Domenic Mediate finished the rebound from six yards out.

The Deacons evened the score at 1-1 after Steven Curfmann served the ball into the box after the re-start from 25 yards out where Julian Valentin was able to re-direct it out of the air for the goal.

Sealy converted a penalty kick to give Wake Forest the 2-1 lead with just under 20 minutes left to go in the first half, but the Terps got the goal back after Mediate trailed a play and got a loose ball and put the ball past Wake keeper Brian Edwards at 7:24.

Wake had a few good scoring chances to open the second half and finally capitalized in the 64th minute off another free kick from Curfmann, this time finished by Sealy. The Demon Deacons stretched the lead to 4-2 when Sealy played a give-and-go with Justin Moose.

MARYLAND.....3

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Freshman Stephen King scored a pair of goals to help Maryland snap its four-game losing streak as the Terps defeated Villanova, 3-1, Wednesday night at Ludwig Field.

The Terps (6-3-1) also got a score from Jason Garey, his 11th of the season, as well as an assist from the junior forward. Seniors Abe Thompson and Domenic Mediate and junior Michael Dello-Russo also added assists for the Terps.

Garey put the Terps in front in the 19th minute when he was able to hold off a defender and finish a loose ball opportunity.

The Terps continued to press, and King gave Maryland a 2-0 advantage at 23:23. Villanova was constantly hassled in the first 45 minutes by the Terp back line as the Wildcats managed just two shots in the first half, none of which were on frame.

However, Villanova opened the second half with better possession and was able to put pressure on Maryland in its defensive third. After a foul was whistled on Maryland, Danny DeMasters got the Wildcats on the board with a skillful free kick from 30 yards that curved into the top-right corner of the net. DeMasters' fourth goal of the season came at 53:49.

The teams exchanged possessions and runs, but it would be the Terps who would be able to push through for another score as King took a feed from the top of the box, turned and beat the Villanova keeper in the lower-right corner of the net.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. – Three different players found the back of the net as No. 20 Penn State handed Maryland a 4-1 defeat at Ludwig Field.

The Terps (7-4-1) dug themselves into an early hole in the 15th minute after PSU's Brian Devlin headed the ball toward the far post at the six, where a Terp player then headed the ball in the net for the own goal.

Penn State (6-2-5) took a 2-0 lead after Kenji Treschuk headed in a cross sent by Brian Devlin from 30 yards out. The 2-0 advantage would be short lived, though, as the Terps took the ensuing kickoff and notched their first score of the game just 20 seconds later. Kevin Reiman sent a through ball to Domenic Mediate who chipped the ball over Conrad Taylor who had come off his line to play the ball.

Penn State pushed the lead back to two goals when Richard Costanzo pushed the ball down the field and found a streaking Simon Omekanda down the left side. The Nittany Lions put the game away at 73:18 on a David Walters blast from 35-yards out that curved into the upper-ninety.

VIRGINIA TECH 1 (2OT)

BLACKSBURG, Va. – Stephen King scored the game-winning goal in the first overtime session to lead No. 21 Maryland to a 2-1 victory over Virginia Tech Sunday afternoon in Blacksburg, Va.

The first half was played predominantly in the midfield as the two teams combined for just five shots in the first 45 minutes (three for Maryland, two for Virginia Tech).

Maryland continued to press in the second half, but the Tech defense refused to allow the Terps to get quality looks inside the 18. Maryland finally broke through when A.J. Godbolt worked deep on the right side of the box and sent a ball through the Tech defense to the top of the box. King drew the attention of the Tech defense, but he let the ball continue to the top of the box where Ian Rodway buried the 18-yard shot into the upper-left corner of the net.

The deficit seemed to inspire the Virginia Tech offense as the Hokies scored after a scramble ensued a corner kick, and Bailey Allman headed the ball in through the traffic with just 48 seconds left in the game.

Despite surrendering the late goal, the Terps continued to play aggressively in the first overtime period. Jason Garey made a soft touch on the ball to Godbolt who was pulled down in the box by a Tech defender, allowing King to convert the first penalty kick of his career for the game-winner.

The Terps' pressure finally helped Maryland get past Cepero in the 52nd minute after a loose ball bounced to Stephen King near the end line. NCAA THIRD ROUND

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The third-seeded Maryland Terrapins advanced to the NCAA Quarterfinals with a thrilling 5-4 win in penalty kicks over 14th-seeded Creighton at Ludwig Field.

The two teams ended regulation tied at 0-0 despite plenty of action from both teams. Maryland (16-5-2) controlled the first half, out-shooting the Blue Jays 9-3. However, Creighton (14-4-2) keeper Matt Allen was up to the task stopping three shots.

In the second half, the Creighton offense began to get on track. The Blue Jays were most dangerous on set plays deep in the Maryland third and on corner kicks but were not able to tally a score.

After two 10 minute overtimes that saw just three shots (all by Maryland), the teams went to penalty kicks. Abe Thompson converted first for Maryland, banging his shot in the upper-left corner of the net. Creighton's Jarod Tarver missed high, but Allen was able to stop Chris Lancos' attempt and Kama Bennah then converted his try to tie the score at 1-1 after two rounds.

Still tied at 1-1 after three rounds, the teams traded conversions in the next three rounds. In the seventh round, Edu's shot found the upper right-hand corner of the net for the score. Vince Odorioso failed to make his attempt, giving Maryland the 5-4 edge.

GAME 24 ❖ DECEMBER 4

#11 ST. JOHN'S 0
#3 MARYLAND 1

NCAA QUARTERFINALS

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Sophomore midfielder A.J. Godbolt scored on a header in the 73rd minute to lead Maryland to a 1-0 win over St. John's in front of 4, 404 fans at Ludwig Field (the second-largest in field history). With the win, the Terps advance to the College Cup for the third straight year.

As he did in last season's national semifinal, Red Storm goalkeeper Bill Gaudette kept St. John's in the game by stopping several good Maryland attempts.

In the second half, the Terps continued to keep the pressure on, forcing the game to be played in the St. John's half. Maryland's relentless pressure paid off when Domenic Mediate controlled the ball in the left corner. Mediate sent his cross to the far post where Godbolt was able to connect on a header from six yards out for the score at 72:03.

Maryland's go-to performer in the tournament, Mediate came up big again - five times in Maryland's nine NCAA Tournament wins over the past three seasons, Mediate has come up with either the game-winner or the game-winning assist.

ACC
ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."
That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.
Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."
As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."
AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.
FEAR THE TURTLE

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 76 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 76 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 16) and the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 27) were ranked among the top 30.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
EIGHTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state-of-the-art sports complex; a high-tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness.

He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 12TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow has just completed the 11th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 11 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships and graduated its student athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored in December, 2004, by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics." She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all 11 of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $53 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student-athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team has appeared in 11 of the las 12 NCAA Tournaments, one of only six schools to do so.
- Women's basketball also won its way to the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and 2005 advancing to the second round.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship anc played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 vic tory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-wi season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004 Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Championship ir both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Ohio State and Maryland).
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Labora tory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics in 2004, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the nev women's basketball coach. In her third season at the helm, her team drew more tha 17,243 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., wh guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001 and continues to be a Final Four team.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championship from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium anc practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it too priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2004-05, 13 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapi athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 11 years, Yov says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistentl inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools.. to work hard and smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we plac upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only know current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in foot ball (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while a Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organize and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow per sonifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellen administrator.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and Universit of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and th University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Sain Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and huma behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recent stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrativ team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit tha we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members wh faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, an the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrifi President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University - Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundatio for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by assistant athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Laura Meckley (right) works with the men's soccer team.

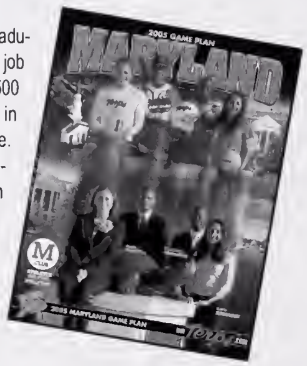
The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.



CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Departmen of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport an meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on th Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balance system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities

In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achieve ments Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortiu for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting it former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is communit outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition an fees to be exchanged for community services with youth.
